Paul Harris Fellow

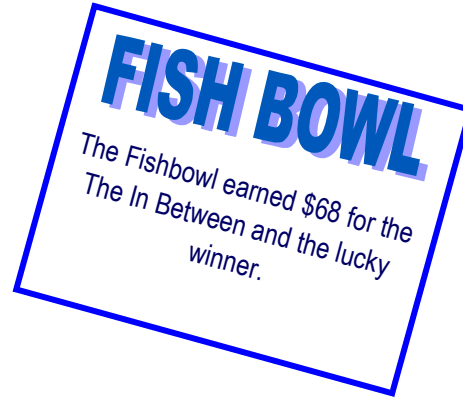

Dan Gust was presented his first Sapphire for his Paul Harris Fellow. It represents an additional $1000 donated to the Rotary International Foundation.

PROGRAM

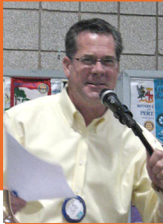

Dan Bernard introduced the program. Eleanor Flanders established an education grant, called the Eleanor Venture. It was established to support a trip for a teacher from a public or private school within the St. Vrain Valley School District area. The annual award is given to a teacher who desires to enrich his or her instructional expertise through travel. Our speaker, Christina Smedley, who is a Spanish teacher at Westview Middle School, was the recipient of one of these trips. She went to Equator and the Galapagos Islands. She visited Quito, the capital of Equator, and several rural towns. Quito is surrounded by mountains and is located at 10,000 feet above sea level. She said that every town has a town square called the "Plaza Mayor". These plaza are the center of activity and trade. Trade in Equator is conducted in U.S. dollars.

The Galapagos islands were surprisingly dry. Due to the absence of human activity, the animals have no fear of humans. There are few predators on the islands.

Christina has made up a travel foot locker which she uses to show students what she found on the trip.
